Associate Prof. Desislava Cheshmedzhieva-Stoycheva, PhD

Desislava Cheshmedzhieva-Stoycheva received her PhD from the University of Shumen, Bulgaria in 2010. The topic of her thesis was Tolerance and ethnicity in media discourse: A comparative study. In 2018 she was awarded Associate Professor in the area of: 2. Philology, professional field 2.1. Germanic Languages/Modern English, subject English. Her habilitation work was titled Framing Muslims in the Bulgarian and British Media Discourse.

Desislava Cheshmedzhieva-Stoycheva is currently working at the Department of English Studies at Shumen University. She is a member of the Bulgarian Society for British Studies, which is a member of the European Society for the Study of English and a member of the Union of Bulgarian Translators. Her interests lie in the field of media studies and culture studies with focus on ethnicity, religion and identity.

Address

Konstantin Preslavsky University of Shumen

Faculty of Humanities

Department of English Studies

115 Universitetska Str.

9712 Shumen, Bulgaria

e-mail: d.stoycheva@shu.bg

http://shu-bg.net/faculties/fhn/prepodavateli?faculty=fhn&teacherId=6#biography