Assist. Prof. Mira Bekar, PhD

Mira Bekar is Assistant professor in Applied linguistics, at the English Department, at the Blazhe Koneski Faculty of Philology. She teaches Modern English (developing students' comprehension, speaking, translating and writing skills in L2). She has worked with Macedonian and international students both in Macedonia and the US. She has organized and took part in many workshops on academic writing, principles of argumentation, rhetoric and teaching English. She also translates monographs and professional and academic articles. She has organized and presented at international conferences (Symposium on second language writing, NFEAP, Writing Research Across Borders and many more). She publishes in Macedonian and English.